RALEIGH, N. C., August 14 .- (Special.)-When the Populist State Convention took a recess at 2:10 this morning it had nominated the following: Governor, W. A. Guthrie; Lieutenant-Governor, Oliver H. Dockery; Secretary of State, Cyrus Thompson; Auditor, Hal. W. Ayer; Treasurer, W. H. Worth; Suintendent of Public Instruction, C. H. Mebane. Then there was a hitch and a great row regarding the nomination of a candidate for Attorney-General, Senator Butler having put up Vance Walser, the Republican nominee. But at the time Butler had a letter from Walser, saying the latter did not expect to go saying the latter did not expect to go into fusion, save on the basis of 1894; these began at once.

Republican State Committeeman Hancock said: "We are here to complete our cock said: "We are here to complete our cock said: "We are notorse Dockery and other "We can endorse Dockery and other Populist neminees, and force out Guthrie."

ind the dictator came to the front. First, he demanded that his nomination as committeeman be withdrawn, otherwise committeeman be withdrawn, otherwise he would not speak. It was done. Butler then said: "Direct and Indirect insinuations have been made upon my integrity and intentions, which I will not suffer from any man. I feel like saying I am ready to compare characters and epithets with any man in this convention. I made up my mind when I took up the Populist banner, in 1822, single-handed and alone, that no amount of inhunded and alone, that no amount of in-simuation, abuse, slurs, charges, and rotten eggs should make me lose my head. But when these charges come from men in our own organization they hurt ten thousand times worse. The matter is over, so far as I am concerned. If not, I am ready to see it is over. I have done my duty. Cries of 'Yes; you have.' When any one reads this list of what is not true. I hate to say it. I say this, not in bad blood, but will not see gentlemen and Populists slandered as a hit at me. I don't believe there are any Populists under the control of myself, or Skinner, or any one else. I so now to conduct the national campaign. This hour closes my work here. I am willing to abide by the action of the conntion as to the committee," (Great

WANTED TO ANALYZE. WANTED TO ANALYZE.

Skinner rose to a question of personal privilege, saying: "I want to analyze the lituation. If Butler meant to say or would dare to say that I had told an antruth about anything we will have a quick day of meeting. I meant to say that by the selection of this committee you were selecting a committee to do just what Butler wants to do. The time has come to inquire whether Butler is aged to larger. are made a harlot between two partles. Hal. Ayer is editor of Butler's paper, and will vote as Butler wishes. Lloyd is a Semate clerk under Butler's appointment, and will so vote. Pigford will do what Butler wants done."

Then, in a sudden burst, Skinner said: "But I move that this committee be nominated by acciamation!" There was an outburst of cries. One man shouted: "Does this mean that Butler will carry us into the Democratic party?" Caldwell moved the committee be nominated by acciamation. This was done. Skinner was white with anger. When some one moved white with anger. When some one moved that Cy. Thompson be added to the com-mittee, he said: "I rule it out of order." B. C. Downing, of Cumberland, offered R. C. Downing.

Skinner ruled this out. It was then stated that for peculiar reasons Cy.
Thompson must be put on the committee;
that Thompson knew what these reasons were. John Graham withdrew, and Thompson was put on the committee.
Butler said that, as retiring State chairhe wanted to call attention to the he wanted to call attention to the fact that the new chairman must certify the lists of election registrars. He said only thirty-nine countles had sent in lists, and that only two weeks remain, and that the party is about to lose a great power and right.

A VOTE OF THANKS. A VOTE OF THANKS.

Here a vote of thanks was unanimously given Butier, on motion of H. F. Seawell, for his wise and able management of the party up to date. This was manimously adopted amid great cheering. He said he wanted a State chairman elected now. Skinner ruled this motion out of order, and directed the committee to meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Butler rose to a point of order, and shaking ler rose to a point of order, and, shaking a finger at Skinner (while some one shouted, "You are trying to run over us"), read the plan of organization, which ays if the committee has not elected a chairman the convention shall do it.

EASTERN SHORE BAPTISTS. Meeting of the Accomac Association. Addresses, &c.

ONANCOCK, NA., August 14.-(Special.) The Accomac Baptist Association, comprising all the churches of that denomination in Accomac, Northampton, and Elizabeth City counties, began its annual session here Thursday in the Onancock

Baptist church. In the absence of the moderator, Judge Ben. T. Gunter, the Rev. J. Manning Dunaway, of Accommod Courthouse, was elected moderator pro-tempore. All the churches in the bounds of the association were represented, and the reports from them showed a healthy and presperous state of affairs. The hour for the annual sermon having

The hour for the annual sermon having arrived, the association suspended business. The Rev. Dr. John Pollard of Richmond College, conducted the devotional exercises, after which the Rev. M. F. Sanford, of Farksley, preached the annual sermon from Genesis, xxxii, 28: "For as a prince hast thou power with God and with men." The subject of the sermon was the wrestling of Jacob with the Angel, and the leading thought developed was that men are blest in proportion to the earnestness and persistence with which they strive for the divine blessing.

At the conclusion of the sermon the Rev. A. J. Reamy, pastor of the Onancock Baptist church, welcomed the ascock Baptist church, welcomed the association in some happy and well-chosen remarks, in the course of which he gave a succinct history of the church in Onancock. In 1855-just forty-one years agoMrs. Anne C. Taylor, of Matomkin District, gave $1,000 to establish a Baptist church in Onancock. The church was organized, the following year with ten members, two of whom still surviveMrs. Sabra Joynes, of Baitimore, and Captain Edward B. Waples, of Onancock.
The church has had eight pastors-four dead and four still living. During the

The moderator called on the Rev. Dr. The moderator called on the Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Dunaway, of Fredericksburg, president of the State Baptist Association, to respond to the address of welcome. Dr. Dunaway made a very appropriate response. He gave an interesting account of his first attempt to visit the Eastern Shore, in 1865, when he was met in the middle of the Chesapeake bay by a furious storm that drove him and his companions back to the western shore at the imminent peril of their lives. He had recently made up his mind to try again, and he was glad he mind to try again, and he was glad he had succeeded in reaching this "promised land" of the Old Dominion. He paid a glowing tribute to the Eastern Shore and the hospitality of its people. At the conclusion of Dr. Dunaway's address the association adjourned for dinner, which was served in the shade of the spreading trees around the church.

which was served in the shade of the spreading trees around the church. In the afternoon the association reassembled and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Rev. A. J. Reamy, moderator; Spencer F. Rogers, treasurer; Goodwyn G. Joynes, clerk. The report on education was then taken up and discussed by the Rev. Dr. Pollard, of Richmond College; Rev. Dr. Spaight, of Berkley; Rev. R. Werner Bagwell, of Newton Centre Seminary, and others. At night the Rev. John T. Betts, of Richmond, delivered a delightful lecture on the Holy Land.

Among the ministers here from a distance are the Rev. Dr. Pilcher, of Petersburg; Rev. William Fisher, of Appomattox, the patriarch of Virginia Baptists; Rev. Frank Fisher, of Lynchburg; Rev. John T. Betts, of Richmond, and Rev. Dr. E. A. Dickinson, editor and proprietor of the Religious Herald.

SECOND DISTRICT DEMOCRATS. Time and Place of Their Congressional Convention Named.

NORFOLK, VA., August 14.—(Special.)— The Democratic Executive Committee of the Second Congressional District held a meeting here this afternoon with a full membership present. Mr. Joseph T. Duke was re-elected chairman, and Norfolk was the place and September 17th was the time selected for holding the congressional convention.

Some time was occupied in the discussion of the question as to whether the committee should choose a presidential elector, vice S. Gordon Cummings, of Hampton, resigned or whether the selection should be left to the congressional

The delegates elected to the annual conference, which meets in Lynchburg, Va., November lith, are: C. P. Armstead, S. D. Turner, Dr. Garratt Anderson, and J. H. Busby.

The place for holding the next district conference was left to a committee, composed of Rev. Dr. A. G. Brown, Dr. G. Anderson, and S. D.

Instead of preaching at night, it was decided that the time be given to read-ing the reports on "The Spiritual State of the Church," Epworth League, and Sunday schools, Rev. J. T. Mastin read the first of these, and delivered an address on "Spirituality" that was calculated to do much good. He showed that the great reason why we have so much do not know and feel the exceeding sinfulness of sin, and that deep conviction of sin and a thorough consecration would remedy this evil; in other words, when a man felt the sting of sin and its terrible condemnation, and fled for refuge and surrendered at the foot of the Cross, he had no idea of going back to the beggerly elements of the world.

Rev. W. B. Beauchamp made a stirring address on "The Epworth League," settings forth its most important features ting forth its most important and advantages, and showing that this movement among the young people of the different churches was destined to give new life to Christian activity, eduthe subject, and asked that a comm tee be appointed to select a place for holding an Epworth Lengue district conference. W. B. Beauchamp, R. F. Readles, and L. L. Fanks compose the committee. Dr. George C. Vanderslice read an historical paper on the Sunday school, but on account of the inteness of the hour no address was made to the people of Williamsburg for theil hospitality; to the different churches for courtesies extended, and to the railroad for reduction in fare, the congregation sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and the conference adjourned
